DETAILED ACTIONAllowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-10 are allowed. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The claims are allowable over the prior art of record because the teachings of the references taken as a whole do not teach or render obvious the combination set forth, including that of a key ring holder with a tubular housing with a cavity that extends from a top end to a distal end, the housing having a planar disc-shaped cap portion that closes off the top end of the housing, a substantially planar disc-shaped nut having a circular axial opening, means for removably attaching the nut to the housing, a sleeve shaped to slidably fit over the housing, a first magnetic disc attached to a lower face of the cap portion, and an elongated, rigid shaft that is sized to extend through the housing, the shaft having a second magnetic disc, where the shaft is normally disposed axially inside the cavity of the housing, and held tightly at one end by an attractive magnetic force.

U.S. Patent Number 3,111,736 to Budreck discloses a key ring holder with a housing having a cylindrical body portion that has a coaxial, cylindrical cavity with a magnetic disc attached to the lower face of the housing, and a rigid shaft having a second magnetic disc attached thereto. However, Budreck fails to disclose a sleeve sized to fit over the housing.

U.S. Patent Number 5,226,252 to Haluska discloses a key ring holder having a housing and a sleeve sized and shaped to slidably fit over the housing, with defined space for wrapping a note or photograph around body portions. However, Haluska does not disclose an attractive magnetic force to attach the housing with the sleeve.
